Right: The Topper was chambered for 2.75- and 3-inch rounds, but simplicity was its strength. The auto ejector was located at 6 o'clock behind the chamber mouth (right arrow).

The lever to the right of the hammer (left arrow) was the action release. The rear half of the receiver was coated with electroless nickel.

Above: Only one choke was supplied. But an extended Improved Modified choke made from stainless steel proved to be a good choice.
