

SIG SAUER 556 CLASSIC SWAT 5.56MM NATO/223 REM., $2399

GUN TESTS GRADE: A-

Sig Sauer's Classic SWAT offered up a impressive performance along with a extensive list of features. Its rotary diopter iron sights were designed for more than just a back-up role. Its prodigious weight and equally hefty list price cost it a few points with our testers.

Right: The Sig had the only ambidextrous safety on our test guns.

Above: The Classic SWAT's stock adjusted for length of pull also folded out of the way.

Right: We particularly liked the two-stage trigger on the Sig Sauer Classic SWAT. Note the overtravel adjustment on the rear of the triggerguard.

Left: The Sig Sauer used an adjustable two-position piston control.
