

MARLIN MODEL 60 22 LR, $179

Gun Tests grade: A

We liked the classic styling, reliable functioning, easy loading, high capacity and great feel of the Marlin Model 60. Along with its low price were its great iron sights and fine accuracy. The birch stock was attractive, though plain.

The bolt locked itself halfway open after the last shot. There were no problems with this rifle whatsoever.

That little button lets you lock the bolt open any time you want, by simply pressing it toward the muzzle while holding the bolt open. It also let you close the bolt after loading. The trigger guard was matte-finished polymer.

We didn't care for the cross-bolt safety on any of the three rifles. The Marlin had a simple, durable rear sight, easily adjusted for elevation with no tools. We liked its trigger best of the three rifles.
