

TAURUS OSS 24/7-OSSDS45B 45 ACP, $623

Malfunctions and flyers spoiled the show. But this is a design that, properly executed, could be very successful.

The OSS was the longest of our pistols and offered a healthy dose of recoil-killing weight biased toward the muzzle. Dimples above the trigger guard were a good way to promote a safe position for the trigger finger.

The front sight presented a white dot and a tall square blade to the shooter, and it was secured by an Allen screw inside a dovetail mount.
