

REMINGTON SPR310S 89570 12 GAUGE, $770

Gun Tests grade: B

This is an appealing shotgun, but necessary improvements will cost extra, which knocks its grade down. Because of the exposed buttstock, it kicked our shooters hard. Also, the safety was stiff to operate, which chewed up our hands.

The thin rubber buttpad did not cover the heel. We'd change it to a full-length pad.

The auto-safety switch is right for a game gun, but its function would have to be smoothed.
