ARMSCALC
Price.....$50

As with the other programs, the user can search the existing database for specific cartridges (above) or bullets (below).

The information is all there, but in a crowded format. The user must sift through a lot to get to the specific information he needs. The top photo shows the data display for the major ballistic categories, the bottom photo, conditions.