

MAGPUL MIAD MISSION ADAPTABLE
GRIP, $36 BASIC/$46 FULL KIT
OPTIONAL BATTERY CORES, $15

Gun Tests grade: A

The MIAD proved to be an eminently functional and smart design. Its variety of grip panels, non-slip texture, and ergonomic angle suited a variety of hand sizes. Shooters looking for a cushioned grip might not care for its hard polymer construction, however. We'd spend an extra ten bucks to get the Full Kit so we could get the Enhanced Trigger Guard Panel for gloved use, and add a purpose-built waterproof battery core ($15) when our budget permitted.

The MIAD full set included four front and three rear panels, and was the only grip to include its own mounting hardware. The MIAD enhanced trigger guard was worth the extra ten bucks, in our opinion.

The MIAD offers separate waterproof battery cores for $15 each. Little details such as a reversible battery cap showed the MIAD's thoughtful design.
